

I am the mother of two boys, and I'm a dynamic EYFS practitioner. I have more than 12 years of teaching experience, both local and international.

I was recognized with a GEMS outstanding teacher award in 2016. I have pertinent experience in British and American common core curriculum. I have taught children of different backgrounds from more than 30 different nationalities around the world — from the UK, U.S., Asia, etc.

I have obtained certification in early childhood education and hold a degree in social studies education. I have a passion for children and work to create real-life situations in the classroom. I help motivate children to develop their critical-thinking skills by exploring their environment and with hands-on activities as well as planning lessons based on STEM. I enjoy creative projects, dancing, and travelling.
